THE FUSION CONVENTIONS

Another Day Occupied by Preliminary Steps to Absorption.

GOVERNOR THOMAS' DEFENSE

His Administration as Good as the Rest, He Says Alleged Scheme to Tire Maupin Delegates.

Special to the Gazette.

Denver, Sept. 11.—The delegates to the Democratic state convention spent a busy night making slates and breaking them again.

The convention has assumed a more businesslike aspect. The marching delegations all tired out and the leaders are down to real work.

The delegates came in slowly and took their seats without any demonstration whatever. Knots of workers were gathered in many parts of the hall, log-rolling for their respective candidates.

It was just 10:15 when Chairman Babbitt called the convention to order.

The following committee was appointed to draft resolutions regarding the Galveston disaster: A. Brunsthe, J. M. Simes, W. S. Buckley and J. Robinson.

Credentials Report.

The committee on credentials then reported that there were contests in Hinsdale, Lake and Mesa.

"We recommend that the Gates delegation from Hinsdale county be seated.

"We recommend that the Hunter delegation from Lake county be seated.

"We recommend that the Swan delegation from Mesa county be seated."

The report was then adopted.

The committee on permanent organization reported: "We recommend that Colonel B. F. Montgomery be chairman of the permanent organization.

"We recommend that a fusion committee be appointed to confer with the other Silver parties regarding a state ticket."

The report was adopted.

Montgomery's Speech.

Colonel Montgomery, upon accepting the position as permanent chairman, said:

"Ladies and Gentlemen:—Permit me first to thank you for this renewed courtesy shown me. I accept this position in the same spirit as it was given and I will endeavor to be fair to all.

"I do not wish to occupy you time in discussing these principles that are necessary to sustain our government.

"The fact that every county in our state is fully represented shows how great an interest is being taken in this campaign. Let us rest on foundation of principle. Let us command by their respect a majority of the votes of Colorado.

"We are here to sustain the fair record of Colorado in the great sisterhood of states. It is right that every Democrat thinks himself to be the whole party.

"Our national standard bearer is not equaled on the face of the earth.

"The Democratic party must give an account of itself in the day of judgment. A nomination today wisely given will be our next governor."

He then paid a high tribute to Senator Teller and referred to him as being the true representative of the Republican party.

He said: "Honest men in the so-called Republican party are fast leaving their associates and joining the Democratic ranks." He also paid tribute to the Silver Republican and Populist parties, stating that to their efforts was largely due the fact of the present questions being before the American people.

He gave a history of the three Silver national conventions this year and in his remarks showed that he was in favor of fusion. He paid a high tribute to Mr. Towne for all-long wait to the present nominee, and continuing he said:

"What does it matter who is the next auditor of state, providing he advocates the great principles imbued in our hearts.

"I want our next legislature to elect a man who is not a foreigner to represent us in the United States senate.

"We are to be visited next week by a wild west man from New York—Teddy Roosevelt. We might have put on our ticket as an equal to this man, Buffalo Bill, but we would have had to apologize to Buffalo Bill."

He referred to the Republican delegates-at-arge as the "Big Four of Colorado nothingness."

At the close of his address the applause lasted about five minutes.

Conference Committee.

The conference committee was the next order of business. The committee was to be composed of one member from each county, that committee to choose a sub-committee of seven to compose the committee.

C. S. Thomas of Arapahoe headed the list. At this moment it was moved to take a recess until 2 o'clock. Motion carried. It was openly charged that the Orman forces were delaying the convention in order that the Maupin forces would return home. The Maupin following is largely from over the range.

Afternoon Session.

When the Democratic convention was called to order this afternoon J. C. Adams of Fort Collins, who represented the Silver Republican convention, was allowed the floor and stated that their committee was now ready to confer with like committees and make the apportionment to the parties.

The Democratic conference committee consists of W. H. Adams, of Conejos; H. A. Lee, Arapahoe; D. C. Goddard, El Paso; Casimiro Barela, La Animas; M. S. Bailey, Fremont; W. S. Buckley, San Miguel; Peter Jennings, of Lake.

Governor Thomas' Defense.

While waiting for the committee on resolutions to report, Governor Thomas addressed the convention. He said in part:

"Ladies and Gentlemen—Inasmuch as we are waiting the report of these committees, I wish to give you a short account of my stewardship. This is a proud moment for me when I feel that we are the dominant party of this state. When this convention speaks its mandate is final.

"I am not here to apologize for or defend a fusion administration.

"The present administration will compare favorably with any Republican administration ever had.

"This administration began with a money deficiency. A census properly taken will give us between 650,000 and 700,000 people. Our institutions have grown during the past decade faster than our income."

He spoke well of the administration of Governor Thomas and said that the past legislature failed to provide revenue laws because they fel that this coming legislature would have more experience. He gave a short history of the revenue raised by state land sales and also gave a history of the state institutions and their policy.

He spoke in scathing terms of Senator Wolcott, openly charging that Mr. Wolcott had come to Colorado this summer to corrupt the politics of the state. He charged that Wolcott was the owned tool of a Wall street broker. He gave Mr. Wolcott the most terrible, scathing, arraignment that ever was heard from a political platform in Colorado. He also paid the same kind of a tribute to J. L. Hodges. He also paid a high tribute to Mr. Bryan and his party. He spoke of the fact that the next general assembly will have to reapportion the state.

At the close of Mr. Thomas' speech, Congressman Bell addressed the convention. He gave a description of the Kansas City convention and paid a high tribute to Chas. A. Towne.

Resolutions.

The committee on resolutions regarding the Galveston disaster then reported. The report expresses sympathy for the people and urges prompt relief.

A resolution was carried that each delegate be assessed one dollar toward this relief. Immediately the amount was raised.

The committee on resolutions then reported as printed in this morning's Gazette exclusively.

A sub-committee appointed by the resolutions committee reported in part that "we approve of the administration of Governor Thomas entirely." It immediately brought forth a storm of objections. During the debate the resolutions as reported by the committee was adopted. The debate on the subcommittee report was continued for for about 45 minutes and was adopted.

Pending the report of the conference committee the convention adjourned to meet at 9:30 tomorrow morning.

CONVENTION BREVITIES.

Teller county delegation had more ladies than all the rest of the convention combined.

The Gazette was in great demand this morning. It had the resolutions as prepared by the committee, something no other paper had.

Colonel Montgomery is the only chairman when it comes to a Democratic meeting.

The scrap between Attorney General Campbell and Mr. Crossman has been the talk of the hotel lobbies all day.

The Populists spent two hours this morning discussing a resolution that the power of declaring a law unconstitutional should be taken from the hands of the supreme court.

Judge Thomas was asked this morning what his people had done. He replied: "I nor no other sane man can tell."

All bands have been dismissed and the money that was to be used for music is being used to roll different political logs.

Governor Thomas promised that not one of the state institutions would close during his administration.

Mrs. Orman is in the city to see that her husband gets the gubernatorial chair.

Mrs. Alva Adams occupies a seat in one of the boxes and is as pleasant as her husband.

Congressman Bell only gave Mr. McKinley the electoral votes of one state. That was Pennsylvania.

The Democratic old soldiers have opened headquarters in the Enterprise block.

That human sympathy is broad and deep is proven by the fact that it only took ten minutes to raise $1,000 in the Democratic convention for the Texas sufferers.

POPULISTS

Remarkable Resolution Was Wrangled Over All Day, But Was Finally Lost.

Special to the Gazette.

Denver, Sept. 11. Chairman Mills called the Populist state convention to order at 9 o'clock this morning and an endeavor was made to get order out of the chaos caused by the wrangle that precipitated the adjournment at midnight last night. The question of deciding the apportionment was settled as recommended by the committee on credentials.

The committee on resolutions then reported. The report was such as would be expected from a Populist convention and was adopted as read. It recommended the appointing of a conference committee consisting of one from each county. They in turn to select a sub-committee of seven members who would constitute the conference committee. The committee was appointed.

After the report on resolutions was adopted A. L. Gray of Chaffee county introduced the following:

"Resolved, That there is not the slightest shadow or vestige of authority derived from the constitution of the state conferring any power upon the supreme court to pass upon or determine the constitutionality of any law which may be passed in the regular course of legislation."

Immediately a number of orators wanted the floor. As they were recognized the flow of oratory against the supreme court was loud and long. Noon came and still these men talked. The Silver Republicans sent over their conference committee and they listened until weary of the talk. At 3 o'clock the convention finally came to a vote and the resolution was lost by a vote of 176 to 82.

An adjournment was then taken pending the report of the conference committee.

Mayor Jones' Latest Estimate Is That 5000 Lives Were Lost

THOUSANDS DESTITUTE

Five Thousand Families In the City Are Shelterless, and the Remainder of the Population Is Suffering to Greater or Less Degree

Memphis, Tenn., Sept. 11.—Authentic information from the storm swept city of Galveston reached the Memphis office of the Associated Press shortly after 8 o'clock tonight. The information came in the shape of a telegram addressed to the Associated Press from Mayor Jones and five of the most prominent citizens of Galveston. The telegram bears date of Sept. 11 and states that a conservative estimate of the loss of life in Galveston is that it is over 3,000. Five thousand families are reported destitute and the destruction to property is great. Following is the telegram in full:

Galveston, Texas, Sept. 11.

To the Associated Press:

"A conservative estimate of the loss of life is that it will reach 3,000. At least 5,000 families are shelterless and wholly destitute. The remainder of the population is suffering in greater or less degree. Not a single church, school or charitable institution, of which Galveston had so many, is left intact. Not a building escaped damage, and half the whole number were entirely obliterated. There is immediate need of clothing food and household goods of all kinds. If nearby cities will open asylums for women and children, the situation will be greatly relieved. Coast cities should send us water as well as provisions, including kerosene oil, gasoline and canoles.

"Galveston, Sept. 11.—It is my opinion, based on personal information, that 5,000 people have lost their lives here. Approximately one-third of the residence portion of the city has been swept away. There are several thousand people who are homeless and destitute; how many, there is no way of finding out. Arrangements are now being made to have the women and children sent to Houston and other places, but the means of transportation are limited. Thousands are still to be cared for here. We appeal to you for immediate aid.

Walter C. Jones,
"Mayor of Galveston."

RAIN AND WIND

Terrific Storm in St. Paul and Other Points of Minnesota—Illinois and Wisconsin.

St. Paul, Minn., Sept. 11.—The tail end of the West Indian storm which devastated Galveston, struck this city last night and today making itself apparent in the heaviest rainfall ever recorded in the local weather office. In 16 hours there was a precipitation of 4.23 inches, most of which fell between 11:30 last night and 7:30 this morning.

The rains caused several bad washouts on the Great Northern in the northern part of the state, one at Cold Springs and others between Deer Springs and Shevlin. The first resulted in carrying away a long bridge and a few cars of a passing train, but the engine passed before the bridge went out.

Lesueur, Minn., Sept. 11.—Not a train has entered this place today. The Omaha line is washed out at points two miles south and one mile north. The rainfall is the heaviest in years.

ILLINOIS.

Quincy, Ill., Sept. 11.—A gale of nearly 40 miles an hour blew here today for 15 straight hours. Many chimneys, trees and signs were blown down and several buildings were unroofed. Nearly all orchards were stripped to bare branches and the damage will be great. All river navigation was tied up today.

WISCONSIN.

LaCrosse, Wis., Sept. 11.—A terrific rain storm raged here almost continuously all day. A great volume of water has fallen and the damage to crops and roads will be much greater than that incurred in the city. The rain appears to have been a general one. Trains on all roads were delayed.

SPEECH BY ROOSEVELT

South Dakota Asked to Vote the Way Her Men Shot in the Philippines.

Madison, S. D., Sept. 11.—The special train bearing Governor Roosevelt was greeted by a large assembly here. Governor Roosevelt and party, in carriages, were escorted to the opera house where arrangements had been made for a brief speech.

The opera house was filled to overflowing. Governor Roosevelt said, in part:

"In the days of the Civil war we know how our people were asked to vote as they fought. South Dakota has been represented in the Philippines by men who not only reflected honor upon South Dakota, but upon all the nation. I ask that in this campaign South Dakota vote the way her men shot in the Philippines and not the way one of her senators talked.

"You cannot get prosperity by any cheap patent device. If the hand of fate or providence is heavy upon us, it is not in human power even to achieve prosperity. I have seen many a good man go down in a struggle. Even if fate favors us we cannot bring prosperity to the thriftless. Each one of us at times slips, each one of us at times needs to have a helping hand stretched out to him.

"Remember, whenever a man slips, to help him on his feet. You cannot carry him. If he wants to be carried, it shows that he is not worth carrying. He can walk himself. Here in this western country, here in the country of the men who have been doing the typical American work, we see the qualities developed that make a man a man. Full legislation cannot do everything but it can do something and you men can do almost anything. It is a difficult thing for many to win success. It is simple enough not to achieve it. It is hard enough to make a farm pay. It is the easiest thing in the world to make it not pay. It is so with the government. Folly in legislation can ruin the best efforts of the best of men. You can settle our currency and make it so that no man knows what he is paying or what he is receiving and you cannot hope to succeed."

In conclusion Governor Roosevelt said:

"I ask the support of you people of South Dakota for the re-election of McKinley because I feel that the interests of this country are vitally concerned. I ask your support for the sake of our material well-being, I ask it for the sake of upholding our standard of civic honesty and I ask that you stand with us exactly as you stood behind Lincoln in 1860 and 1864, because we are doing the work of a great nation and upholding the honor of the flag in the face of all the nations of mankind."

AT SIOUX FALLS.

Sioux Falls, S. D., Sept. 11.—Gov. Roosevelt was greeted here by a great crowd. At Auditorium hall, which was filled, he spoke for three-quarters of an hour. An overflow meeting was afterwards addressed in the open air for fifteen minutes by the governor and large numbers of people were unable to hear him.

A number of excursion trains from adjoining towns brought in hundreds of people to the city to participate in the welcome to the New York executive. Every ward in the city turned out a ward club, which participated in a street parade. John Proctor Clarke of New York; Governor Shaw, of Iowa; Senator Knute Nelson, of Minnesota, and Curtis Guild, of Boston, were present at the auditorium.

EARL LI'S CREDENTIALS

United States Declines to Express an Opinion as Yet.

ONE PERTINENT SUGGESTION

Hope Expressed that He Has Authority to Give Assurance that Lives of Americans Will Be Safe.

Washington, Sept. 11.—The state department this afternoon issued the following:

"The following communication was handed to Acting Secretary of State Hill this evening from the Chinese minister:

"Cablegram from Earl Li Hung Chang, dated the 7th of September, 1900, transmitted by the Chinese minister at St. Petersburg under date of Sept. 9, and received by Minister Wu on the last-named date:

"I am in receipt of an imperial edict of the 30th day of the seventh moon, Aug. 24, 1900, transmitted from Pao Ting Fu. It is as follows:

"'Li Hung Chang, envoy plenipotentiary, is hereby vested with full discretionary powers and he shall promptly deal with whatever questions may require attention. From this distance we will not control his actions. Let this edict be forwarded with extra expedition at the rate of 600 li per day (to Earl Li) for his information and guidance. Respect this.'"

To the above communication Acting Secretary Hill has handed Mr. Wu the following reply:

"The United States does not feel called upon to express any opinion at this time as to the sufficiency of Li Hung Chang's authority, but hopes it will transpire that his credentials are full and authoritative, not only for negotiations, but to engage him without further delay to give assurance that the life and property of Americans will henceforth be respected throughout the Chinese empire."

From the formal statement given out today it appears that the state department is not yet ready to begin direct negotiations with Li Hung Chang. It does not question his credentials as a plenipotentiary, but simply leaves the matter in abeyance. Probably this is because all of the powers have not returned their responses to the Russian note, and it is desired to avoid the United States first among the powers to abandon the hope of harmonious action and strike for itself toward the settlement directly with China. Also it may be deemed well to wait to hear from Mr. Conger, who several days ago was invited to express his opinion about quitting Peking.

Minister Wu was twice at the state department today. It was understood that his first call was in part, at least, to secure transportation for Li Hung Chang from Shang-hai to Ta-ku on a United States vessel. His later call was to receive the answer of the department to that application, as well as to the communication respectfully Li Hung functions. The answer returned by the state department to the latter communication apparently made it unnecessary at this time to pursue the inquiry as to the ship, for if Earl Li may not enter into negotiations at present there is no occasion to transport hi mto Ta-ku.

AMERICAN TROOPS TOOK NO PART IN LOOTING

Washington, Sept. 11.—The war department today made public the following telegram:

"Fowler, Chi-fu.

"Send following cablegram to Coolidge, commanding United States forces, Tien-tsin:

"Reported here extensive looting in Tien-tsin. Report immediately whether American troops took part. If so punish severely, repress sternly. Absolute regard for life and property of noncombatants enjoined.

By order of the secretary of war.

"Corbin."

"Chi-fu—To Corbin, Washington.

"Tien-tsin, July 25.—Looting by American troops walled city Tien-tsin unfounded and denied. Silver taken from burned mint under direction Colonel Meade, marine corps, commanding, who was invalided today. No property destroyed except under military exigency. American troops have orders to protect life and property of non-combatants in American southeast quarter of city assigned them. Will forward reports commanders of American guards in city.

"Coolidge."

Supplementary to the above, Colonel Coolidge also tran—itted the reports of Major Waller of the marine corps; Major J. M. Lee, commanding the first battalion of the Ninth infantry, and Major Morris, C. Foote, commanding Company M, of the Ninth, which latter were the first Americans into the city, and the report signed by his officers, all of which bear witness that the United States troops took no hand in the looting at Tien-tsin. Indeed all the evidence shows the Chinese foremost in the looting and that it practically had property covered the streets before the allied forces entered the city.

The report of Major Foote, while excluding the Americans from any share in the blundering, claims that looting was indulged in by the troops of the other nations.

The horrible condition of Tien-tsin when the city was occupied was referred to in Major Lee's report. The stench from unburied corpses and refuse is said to have been terrible, although everything possible was done by the American forces at least to bring order and cleanline out of the chaos and filth that reigned in the streets of Tien-tsin.

Chicago, Sept. 11.—There was rejoicing today at Democratic headquarters over the result of the election in Maine. Secretary Walsh and National Committeeman [illegible] of figures based upon their per cent gains in Maine, upon which they claim the following states for Bryan:

Maryland by a majority of 8,000; Indiana, 80,000; Michigan, 35,000; Minnesota, 2,000; Kentucky, 75,000; West Virginia, 20,000; California, 45,000; Delaware, 2,000; North Dakota, 2,000, Illinois, 27,000.

"The Democratic gain in Maine was 23 per cent," said National Committeeman Johnson, "and the Republican gain was 12 per cent, based on the vote cast in 1896. If similar results are obtained in other states now claimed by the Republicans, Mr. Bryan cannot fail of election. The ratio, if maintained in New York, would not give us that state, but it would cut down the Republican majority to 153,000 from the majority of 268,000 in 1896.

"The result is more than gratifying, coming after the Republican slump in Vermont. It shows that the Republicans of Maine are dissatisfied."

William J. Bryan, who remained in his room at the Auditorium hotel all day, preparing a number of speeches which he will begin Thursday at Fort Wayne, Ind., declined to discuss the Maine election further than to say that the result was no more gratifying than he had expected and that similar Democratic gains would follow all over the country in the November election. Mr. Bryan will leave for Fort Wayne tomorrow afternoon.

Senator Hanna, whose time was occupied in informal conferences with members of national advisory committee, declined to express an opinion, but Vice Chairman Payne of the Republican national executive committee, speaking for him, said:

"The result in Maine has no bearing on the national election and was in no sense a disappointment to the Republicans. We are confident as ever and our confidence is growing. I do not pretend to say what was the cause of the apparent Republican loss."

Among the speakers assigned was Colonel W. B. Shaw, of Illinois, to tour Oregon and Washington. Adolph Spreckles of San Francisco, was a caller at Republican headquarters today. He assured Senator Hanna that California would give the heaviest Republican majority this fall ever known in a presidential year.

An afternoon visitor at Republican national headquarters was Senator Thomas H. Carter, of Montana, who held a conference with Senator Hanna. Senator Carter said:

"Montana is conceded to be a close state, but my opinion is that it will go Republican this fall, regardless of the fact that the Republicans have a majority of more than 17,000 to overcome. [illegible] Silver is playing an insignificant part in our campaign."

FLORENCE

Unusual Activity in the Coal Mines During the Past Summer—Mr Tydall's Departure

Special to the Gazette.

Florence Sept 11—The coal mines in this vicinity have worked more this summer than they have in any summer during the last ten years. The mine at Fremont has worked nearly every day and the prospects are good for a full winter's work.

S F Smith and Charles Cowan have opened a five foot vein of bituminous coal near Williamsburg two miles southwest of Florence. A slope 100 feet long has been driven and the coal was encountered at its breast. It has taken five months for the men to complete this slope, they having worked day and night. At the first they contended with a great amount of water but by steam pumping it was at last mastered. Men are now at work installing new hoisting machinery and in about a month the work will be completed and the mine in working condition. Coal buyers from Cripple Creek and Leadville have been hunting for coal but no orders have been placed. When fully opened this mine will afford employment to about 40 men. A short time ago another mine was opened a little south of Coal Creek by Tom Williams of Williamsburg. Coal from this mine is being shipped to Leadville.

W F Tydall, who has been in the abstract office of Mr Leadville for the last four years has tendered his resignation and left today for England. Before leaving Cripple Creek he was presented with an elegant opal scarf pin as a token of the esteem in which he was held by his fellow workers.

NEW USE FOR BUTTER

Prevents Boiling Over

The effect of coffee frequently produces biliousness and all of the accompanying distress such as loss of appetite dyspepsia liver troubles etc. A lady from North Evanston Ill Mrs Eliza J Stuart 2328 Hartz Ave writes: I had used coffee many years and though I took great care in making it it seriously affected my health. It made me bilious and robbed me of appetite for breakfast.

I always had trouble with dyspepsia while I used it. I was told by physicians that I had catarrh of the stomach and came to believe there was no help for me. Two years ago I quit the use of coffee and began to use Postum Food Coffee. At first I missed the stimulant although the taste of the food coffee was delicious.

In a few days I forgot all about my coffee in the satisfaction I derived from Postum and soon found that my appetite returned the bilious condition and dyspepsia disappeared so that now I am proud to say that at the age of 70 years I enjoy my food as I did when young and all my dyspeptic symptoms and trouble of the stomach have gone.

These troubles had been with me for most of my life and it is really a remarkable thing that I am now so perfectly well. I say that I am grateful can not express it. Once in a while I find a person that does not like Postum but I always find it is because it has not been properly prepared. There is but one way to make good Postum and that is to make it exactly according to directions allowing it to boil 15 minutes not after it is placed on the stove, but after the real bubbling begins use a small piece of butter about the size of two peas, to prevent boiling over.

THE NEWS OF CRIPPLE CREEK

McNamara's Rights and Those of the Public.

WILL BE SETTLED IN COURT

McNamara Arrested on Charge of Assault With a Deadly Weapon—Republicans Meet Tomorrow.

Cripple Creek Bureau
Colorado Springs Gazette.

Cripple Creek Sept. 11—D M McNamara was arrested today on the charge of assault with a deadly weapon and threatening to kill. McNamara has a tunnel on Bull hill near Windy point which extends under the Maid No 1 and No 2 lodes and across which there is a road extending up to the mines on the top of Bull hill. He has objected to people driving along this road and over his property. Some time ago he was arrested on complaint of several people who charged him with throwing stones at them. Today he got out on the property and began digging a hole in the middle of the road. He dug it fully ten feet deep and claims that he intends to sink it down to his tunnel a depth of 50 feet. To further obstruct the passage way he took a shotgun today and guarded the property threatening to shoot those who attempted to drive over it. There were two wagons one loaded with coal be longing to the Colorado Trading and Transfer company whose destination was the Logan mine and the other was a wagon loaded with lumber in charge of W H McMann bound for the Portland mine. These two wagons were stopped and it being on a side hill the drivers were unable to turn around or get their wagons out of the place in any direction. McMann swore out the warrant McNamara was brought before Justice McCullah and gave bond of $150 for his appearance Thursday when he will be given a preliminary hearing. McNamara is an old timer in the camp residing near the property. The county commissioners are somewhat at a loss as to a remedy. The road while it has been used by the public for a number of years has never been surveyed and does not rightfully belong to the county. Neither does McNamara own the property over which he assumes jurisdiction. In fact the surface rights are a part of the public domain.

EASTERN MARKETS

New York Stocks

New York Sept 11—There was a large attendance of members of the stock exchange at the opening of the board this morning a thing for several months past. This was due partly to the returning tide from summer vacations but there seemed to be an expectation among brokers and operators which was not realized that some renewal of interest in securities was about to be shown. London bought on a moderate scale here that market being encouraged by continued ease of money and this helped the recovery from the opening decline here. The enthusiasm of the profession at traders was short lived however. There was some short covering in Sugar, People's Gas and Brooklyn Transit these three stocks maintaining their conspicuous position in the trading. There were isolated movements in several stocks including Colorado Fuel preferred.

The better comprehension of the extent of the Texas disaster and St Paul's decreased earnings proved depressing factors and helped to overcome the early tendency. Missouri Pacific, Kansas & Texas preferred and St Louis & Southwestern preferred were all weak. Otherwise the roads in the affected territory moved narrowly. This was true in fact of the whole list and the closing prices showed few important changes. A stiffening in the rate for call loans to 2 per cent attracted attention to the possibilities of a money squeeze during the autumn. The rate fell back to 1½ when the banks came into the stock exchange with the upper hand late in the day.

The bond market was without feature. Total sales $934 000.

The London Market.

New York Sept 11—Commercial Advertiser's financial cablegram.

The tone of the markets here today was bright and business was brisker than it has been. The new activity however being mainly confined to the mining demand. Chicago Grain

Chicago Sept 11. The fore part of the session in wheat was rather quiet but activity developed later because of export buying. October opened ⅜@¼c higher at 71½ to 71¾ thus beginning an advance which lasted nearly to the end. The firmness at the start was due to firmness at Liverpool to small northwest receipts and to bad weather in the northwest. The export demand caused shorts to cover rather freely and under this pressure October advanced steadily to 73⅞. There was profit taking at the top but the close was strong.

Corn was firm but dull.

Oats were fairly active and firm.

Provisions were rather irregular. The market opened moderately early but eased off later.

The Metal Market.

New York, Sept. 11. Metals ruled very quiet all day with only a little business doing. Pig iron warrants were dull being quoted at 9 3½@10 3½. Tin in London declined 7s 6d and served to give a weak undertone here together with the slack demand, closing 25 points below last night at 30 nominal. Copper was dull and unchanged at 16½ despite an advance of 7s 6d abroad. Lead ruled dull at $4 37½ and spelter at 4 07½@4 12½.

Broker price for lead was $4 and for copper 16.8½.

The Coffee Market.

Theodore Roosevelt

STATESMAN—HISTORIAN, ECONOMIST AUTHOR AND SOLDIER, GOVERNOR OF NEW YORK, AND CANDIDATE FOR VICE-PRESIDENT OF THE UNITED STATES.

Promptly upon Governor Roosevelt's nomination for the Vice-Presidency, the leading Republican and Independent newspapers believing they would be rendering a public service, formed an association to act as one buyer of an enormous edition of Governor Roosevelt's writings, so that all newspaper readers could obtain a fine library edition at a nominal price. The representative of the papers arranged with Governor Roosevelt's publishers, Messrs G P. Putnam's Sons to obtain from them a limited edition to be sold for the price which has heretofore prevailed. This edition is

$7.50 A Set in Cloth Binding, Instead of at $24.50

To be SOLD to NEWSPAPER READERS ONLY in sets of Fifteen Volumes for $7 50, or in single Volumes

For 50 Cents a Copy

They also arranged for a limited number of copies to be bound in paper covers with untrimmed edges so that those desiring it could have the works bound in half calf or other fine and expensive binding, as individual taste might desire. In this form they will be sold for the almost nominal price of $3 75 for the set of Fifteen Volumes or in single Volumes

For 25 Cents a Copy

The Messrs Putnam's well known and well deserved reputation as makers of fine books renders a further description of this beautiful edition unnecessary.

It may be stated however, that amongst the illustrations will be found three separate portraits of Governor Roosevelt as huntsman soldier and in civilian dress, and that has written a biographical sketch of Governor Roosevelt which will appear in this edition only.

GEN. FRANCIS VINTON GREENE

Remember the price heretofore in cloth binding cheapest edition has been $2 50 and in finer binding up to $100 a set at which many copies have been sold.

The present price of 25 cents a volume or $3 75 for the set in paper covers and 50 cents a volume or $7 50 a set in cloth binding, has been made with Governor Roosevelt's approval to enable all his friends and admirers (and they are legion) as well as his opponents who are honest in their desire to know him as he is to secure the set of these works at a moderate price. They will form a permanent and valuable addition to every library. The edition is limited and after newspapers have made the distribution to their readers the regular price of $24 50 a set will prevail. Therefore delay in ordering now may lead to disappointment.

FRANK THE CASTLE SQUARE.

The Arnold Opera company comes to the opera house Friday night with a complete company, beautiful stage settings and handsome costumes. The Brooklyn Eagle, in speaking of the production of "Carmen" by this company, said:

"This charming opera was rendered in a highly creditable manner and showed that the company was equally at home in grand and comic opera. Two things stood out prominently in the opera last evening, and contributed much to the unqualified success of the company—one was the admirable stage setting, the other the excellence of the chorus the latter is one of the strongest features of the company. It was much commended in "Ermine" and "The Bohemian Girl," and was more emphasized last evening in "Carmen." The Arnold Opera company undoubtedly takes rank with the Castle Square company lately here."

"THAT MAN,"

The comedian, Walter Walker, accompanied by the dainty comedienne, Mildred St. Pierre, and a cast of unusual excellence, will present "That Man" at the opera house next Saturday evening. This is the comedy that made all New York laugh when produced at the Herald Square theater, and out of over 60 newspapers it only received one bad notice. The role of "Theophilus Montjoy" is very happily suited to Mr. Walker's talent, for he certainly did score a great success season before last in the star role in "A Bachelor's Honeymoon," and last season in "The Nominee," and it is the general opinion that this young man will, ere many seasons, rank as our foremost comedian.

CHRISTIAN PLAY.

The "Prince of the World" was played ten consecutive times at the Elitch Gardens theater in Denver, and on the tenth performance 2,300 people were present. The play gives a spectacle of ancient Rome at the time of the birth and life of Christ. Jerusalem was a dependency of the Romans at that time. The staging is most picturesque, as well as correct. John T. Sullivan, one of the most prominent of the New York leading men, plays the part of Caesar.

The tickets for the performance are now on sale at the regular prices. The den of lions in which the Christian maiden is placed by the order of Caesar will be exhibited on the streets tomorrow afternoon. The company appears at the opera house Thursday evening.

DONAHUE BAGGED OUT NEAR CALHAN

Martin Donahue, the prisoner who escaped from the county jail last Sunday evening, was captured Monday evening about 8 o'clock at Calhan, about 40 miles east of this city. The capture was made by Deputy Sheriff Harry Alward. Donahue numbered among the trusties at the jail and was set to work chopping kindling in the basement last Sunday afternoon. One of the outside doors in the basement was left open for some unknown reason and Donahue yielded to the temptation in spite of the fact that he had only two months more to serve. As soon as the escape of the prisoner was made known the sheriff and the police department sent out men to search. Deputy Sheriff Alward went out to Calhan Monday morning to summon jurors for the district court, and while there he decided to look about for Donahue. He had been given a description of the man and he was thus enabled to identify the escaped prisoner when he met him. He went to the stock yards at Calhan and the first man he met there was Donahue.

The deputy recognized him, and said: "Hello, Donahue," to which Donahue replied, "My name is not Donahue."

Mr. Alward requested his company. The prisoner insisted that his name was not Donahue and that the officer had made a mistake. Mr. Alward was willing to run the risk, however, and he kept his man until he could send for Jailer Frank Phillips. Mr. Phillips went out to Calhan immediately and as soon as he approached Donahue he identified him as the escaped prisoner. Donahue then gave in and assured the officers that they had captured the right man. He was brought to this city and locked up in his old quarters at the county jail.

The newsboys plunge party at Manitou will take place on Saturday evening of this week instead of on Friday.

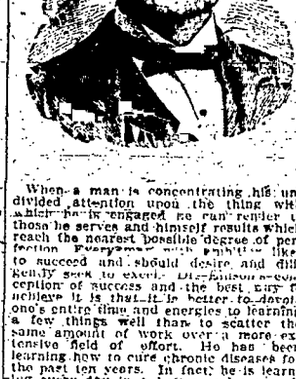
The portrait business of Mr. F. P. Stevens has been purchased by the Nockin Photograph company of Denver, the change having become effective Monday morning.

Mr. Stevens will continue the wholesale view business and will make it more extensive than he has yet been able to do and more extensive than anything else that Colorado has seen. His success as a photographer of beautiful scenes in Colorado Springs and throughout the state has made him thoroughly well known, and lovers of the photographic art have learned to regard him as the best in his line of business. He has this week installed considerable new equipment and is better prepared than ever to turn out first class work at a very rapid rate.

The purchasers of the portrait department of Mr. Stevens' business are thoroughly competent photographers and can be relied upon to give the people of Colorado Springs first class work.

A BOOT AND A SHOE

A boot on one foot and a shoe on the other does not match very well for dress apparel. A physician who treats Chronic Diseases only is worthless for the treatment of acute diseases or family practice. A physician in general practice is at sea when a Chronic case is to be treated. Dr. Ellison treats Consumption, Asthma, Catarrh, Hay Fever and Chronic Diseases of Men, Women and Children. He devotes all of his professional time to the special treatment of Chronic Diseases and has been doing so for over ten years. Consultation and examination free to all at his office every day except Sunday.



When a man is concentrating his undivided attention upon the thing with which he is engaged, he can render to those he serves and himself results which reach the nearest possible degree of perfection. Everyone with ambition likes to succeed and should desire and diligently seek to excel. Disillusionment of success and the best way to achieve it is that it is better to devote one's entire time and energies to learning a few things well than to scatter the same amount of work over a more extensive field of effort. He has been learning how to cure chronic diseases for the past ten years. In fact, he is learning every day in a better and more effective way how to treat consumption, rushmat, catarrh, hay fever and chronic diseases of men, women and children. Every day presents new thoughts and ideas of the most successful methods by which these diseases can be treated. The doctor is just as diligent in the study of his specialty as he was ten years ago, and all who suffer from seated diseases can employ him with a reasonable expectation that they will secure desired results. People who decide to treat with him for these diseases he treats as a specialty have reached an intelligent conclusion and they can investigate his treatment and have their cases examined free of cost. If you cannot come to his office, write. The treatment can be taken at your home. Office, 24 North Tejon street, over Craigue's grocery store. Office hours: Mornings from 9 to 12; afternoons from 2 to 5; evenings from 7 to 8 o'clock.

SPECIAL NOTICE Dr. Ellison gives free consultation and examination every day except Sundays, from 11 to 12 a. m. and from 2 to 5 p. m.

AN IRREPARABLE BLUNDER.

TO GIVE up the Philippines would be a blunder so irreparable and so colossal that we do not believe that even the Bryan Democracy would be capable of it. Mr. Bryan's pledge, like Mr. Bryan's platform, promises independence to the islands, to be sure, but it is qualified in front by a declaration in favor of "stable government" and modified behind by a hazy proposition of some kind of a protectorate. Out of those two there is sufficient material to form a policy which might at the last minute relieve the Democracy from the odium of sacrificing immense national interests and immeasurable opportunities.

Under no circumstances but those of most hasty decision would the American people, and especially those of the west, sanction such an amazing disregard of the national interests. The longer we hold the Philippines, the more their value to us will be apparent, and the prediction is a safe one that twenty years from now we would no more be willing to give them up than to renounce possession of a part of our Atlantic seaboard. The people of our own state are not as quick as they should be to perceive the great value of these islands to us, as affording a market for our products and an inducement to our own rapid progress and settlement, but some of them have been prompt in their appreciation. Among these was the Rocky Mountain News, which on August 21, 1898, declared:

"The United States should hold the Philippines though we have to exist without signing a treaty of peace with Spain for the next twenty years and have to capture every Spanish ship that shows its nose on the seas during that period." And after describing the three great routes through which trade will flow to the far east and of which we should control the greatest, it continues: "Providence itself directed the war against Spain, for had we not engaged in it we would, perhaps, have permitted the changes in the east to pass as something beyond the scope of our efforts, and we certainly would not have seized control of the Pacific route, which must for all time give us a paramount position in those waters. IT WOULD BE A CRIME TO NEGLECT THE OPPORTUNITY TO PARTICIPATE IN THE COMMERCE OF ASIA. IT WOULD BE A CRIME TO GIVE UP THE PHILIPPINES."

That is the attitude that the people of Colorado would assume with scarcely a dissenting voice if they realized what the possession of these islands may mean to us within the next few years. The chief feature of President McKinley's second term will be an unprecedented development of Pacific commerce, and as a result of that our own state will have a rapid growth and an abundant prosperity.

There need be no alarm about constitutional violations or imaginary imperialism. The president is strictly in the line of his sworn duty, and congress and the courts may be trusted to observe the forms of law. The interests of the islands demand American control, and therein lies their only opportunity for free government. Our own interests may be secured with no violation of others rights, and commerce and civilization may go hand in hand.

In view of the interests of our state, and the promises that the future holds for us, it is almost inconceivable that Colorado should give her vote against western expansion, or should do anything else than to approve most heartily the course of the administration upon that issue which the Kansas City convention has declared to be the paramount one of the present campaign

THE MINING INVESTOR.

THE MINING INVESTOR, published in Colorado Springs, has the large bulk of its readers in the east.

This is as it should be, as it is intended primarily for eastern consumption—a western journal for eastern readers and in this case a journal devoted to mining interests.

The Mining Investor has without doubt by far the largest circulation of any publication of its class in the United States. But it realizes that the greatest good can be done with the greatest number. Consequently it is looking for more subscribers every day—and is getting them.

But while the Mining Investor has the bulk of its circulation eastwards it makes highly interesting home reading. He who keeps up with the daily events that happen in Colorado's mining world may skip the mere record of the week's happenings as detailed in this publication, and the stock tables, which record for months back, and even the statistical matter which deals with the dividends and production credited to Colorado's great gold camp, but there are two features of manifold importance which even the best posted mining man cannot afford to miss.

They are the Bureau of Publicity and Critic's Letter and they are there every week.

The Bureau of Publicity department is for the use of readers of the Mining Investor entirely free of charge. Any question asked concerning a Colorado mine, mining stock or company is answered in this column. Not in an off-hand or parrot-like way, but after a thorough investigation has been made by those detailed for the work. It commends comparatively few propositions which it is called to comment upon; it shows apathy about a few more and the remainder it dissects piece by piece, showing up their deformities, exposing their inconsistencies brushing aside their glittering generalities and laying bare their degree of worthlessness.

It is an unsatisfactory and irritating feature for the fakir and the wildcat promoter to stumble against. But it is the beacon for the investor and he uses it largely both at home and abroad from one year's end to the other.

And Critic's Letter deals with the greatness of Colorado's mining world, but while never forgetting this the writer frequently stays in his course to aim telling blows at those who are using it for their own gain irrespective of all else. He loudly calls attention to their lies and their misrepresentations and exposes the rottenness and unstability of their schemes. He calls a spade a spade and the shady promoters understand it. They fear and dread the Mining Investor; bribery in whatever form, intimidation of whatever kind they well know will never swerve it from its course. The Mining Investor is plain spoken and relentless and will not cease its attacks and exposures until such a time as the objects of its attention see fit to change their methods.

Against such things as these the public and the good name of Colorado must be protected. It is the Mining Investor's self-imposed task to do this, and it is doing it well. For its readers it has made and saved thousands upon thousands of dollars, and it has directed investment from worthless channels into profitable fields.

The mining men of Colorado as well as laymen in other parts can well afford to read their Mining Investor religiously. It is unique in the annals of mining publications; it is instructive and interesting. The chances are that in every issue there will be something that will pay for the trouble of placing a wrapper around it and addressing it to a friend.

The more people who see the journal once, the more there will be who will see it regularly and have Colorado's greatest industry put before them in the right light. The good things will be introduced to them by their proper standard of merit, but at the same time the reader will be safe in the knowledge that he will receive proper warning of the gilded wildcats that are constantly flaunted in the face of the prospective investor.

THE SITUATION IN CHINA.

A PERIOD of intense activity in China has been followed by one in which the chief business of the powers appears to be the exchange of diplomatic notes. So long as it was a question of marching to the relief of the besieged legations in Peking, there was a chance for military promptness and force, but now the diplomats have an inning, and the situation has resolved itself into what may well prove to be an interminable squabble over minor points.

When we consider how much Russia has to gain from the prolongation of the present situation, and how little likely the other powers are to agree upon any plan of mutual profit, it seems difficult to avoid the conclusion that Russia has been successful in the preliminary steps of a very shrewd game. The suggestion that the foreign troops be withdrawn from Peking and that the Chinese native government be given the opportunity to recuperate its power, was one which seemed to give a contradiction to the traditions of Russian diplomacy and the expectations of the other powers. It was obviously the thing that Russia was not expected to do, but none of the others, with the exception of the United States, seems to have had the wisdom to see that it was infinitely better to take Russia at her word. It is possible that Russia counted exactly upon what has happened, and once more the shrewd game of proposing exactly the thing she did not want to do, has been successful.

The longer the present conditions continue the more likely that Russia will be able with her usual untiring patience to secure the opportunity of establishing herself in the northern provinces, and if in the meantime there should be a serious disagreement among the other powers that would be no serious detriment to Russia. The establishment of a strong native government, with an undivided territory guaranteed by international agreement and free to the trade of all the world would not meet Russia's views, but that is what the United States desires, and that is what Russia proposed, practically, in the now famous note. Instead of working with a common purpose towards this end, as would have been the case if the Russian proposal had been accepted, the powers are now left without a common basis of action and are merely killing time waiting the arrival of the German field marshal commander of the allied armies, who will find on his arrival no army against which to fight and no object except that of conquest to engage his efforts.

In the meantime it is proposed to withdraw our army from China, and under present conditions it may be the best thing to do. A large part of their mission has been already accomplished, and the rest of it may be defeated by the absence of a responsible Chinese government with which negotiations can be conducted, and the presence of the forces of sundry European powers whose view of the situation is incompatible with our own. If a contest is to be waged for the partition of Chinese territory, we can have no part in it; if a ruthless vengeance is to be exacted, and cities are to be sacked and provinces to be depopulated on account of the crimes and massacres committed by Boxers or regulars, the United States will have no share in that.

The conduct of Chinese affairs by the present administration has been such as to warrant confidence that it will continue to act wisely and for our best interests. So long as our soldiers are needed in China to protect our citizens and maintain our rights they will be kept there; when from the course of events they are no longer needed, or a contest arises in which we can have no part, they will be withdrawn, and the security of our rights and the promotion of our interests will be secured in some other way.

DEMOCRATIC GAIN AND LOSS.

BY ABANDONING free silver as a paramount issue and devoting their entire attention to the deceit of anti-imperialism, the Democrats have succeeded in reducing the Republican majority in two New England states to a point less than it was four years ago, though it still remains much larger than it has been at any other election.

The result was expected, as there were undoubtedly many eastern Democrats who voted against the party in 1896 solely on account of the silver issue.

But it is equally certain that in the western states there are many tens of thousands of voters who supported Mr. Bryan in 1896, who will turn against him now that his party has abandoned silver and has made opposition to American expansion and the performance of national duty the test of Democracy.

And fortunately for the Republicans the Democratic gains will result only in reducing the Republican majority in surely Republican states, while the Democratic losses will bring into the Republican column several states whose votes were conspicuous among Mr. Bryan's minority of four years ago.

The government of the United States has acted with commendable promptness in furnishing tents and rations for the Galveston sufferers. It is sometimes objected that there is no warrant in the constitution or laws for furnishing aid of this kind, but in such a case as the present one it is well to give the sufferers the benefit of the doubt.

Colorado college opens for the fall term this morning under circumstances most encouraging to the friends of the institution. Each year shows a notable progress in what is surely destined to become one of the great colleges of the country.

Galveston seems to have reached the climax of queer street nomenclature. Yesterday's dispatches mentioned a "Q½" avenue.

The weather clerk appears to have run out of the regular lines and is furnishing us with mixed samples.

DUSK.

Over the far hills sinking low
The great Sun slightly fades from sight,
Leaving the brilliant after-glow
That heralds the near approach of night.

The sky is a richly-blended mass
Of shades of purple, crimson, gray;
Slowly—unnoticed—its colors pass
And die with the quickly-dying day.

Silence—save for the croaking frog,
Or the plaintive cry of belated loon—
Winging above some mossy bog
In the timid light of the new-born moon.

The wild-fowl slumber among the reeds;
The beasts go each to his well-known lair;
The brook-trout leaves not his den of weeds
And wings cease beating the quiet air.

Only the watchful night-owl wakes
To keep his vigil full willingly;
And the passing zephyr scarcely shakes
The light-poised leaves of the aspen tree.

The last faint gleam of the twilight goes.
And the star-lumps flicker, one by one;
The flood of a murky darkness flows
Over the world—the Dusk is gone.

Appearances are Deceitful.

"I iso observed," remarked Uncle Ephe, "dat de smallest fish sometimes mek de bigges' ripple when he rise to de fly."

Too Hot to Field.

"Do you know," began the Summer Man, "I sometimes think—"

"Impossible!" promptly replied the Fair Girl.

And he is still wondering why the conversation seemed to lag just then.

THE BRAY OF THE BEAST.

His mellow song
Wafts along
It cleaves the night,
And in its might
Is carried on
And on and on.
Now scornfully,
Now mournfully,
Gasping,
Rasping,
Penetrating,
Tintillating,
Soul-distressing
And expressing
Weight of woe
Not ours to know.

FROM THE PRESS OF THE NATION.

The Demagogue and the Empire.

(New York Tribune.)

It is not at all likely that the "great western experiment" in popular government will turn out a failure. There is a saving common sense and hard headedness about the American people which makes such a disaster improbable, not to say impossible. Nevertheless it may not be unprofitable to note that, unless the natural laws which have revealed themselves in the making and unmaking of nations in the past have suddenly ceased to operate, the calamity of imperialism prophesied by the Bryanites, if it could come upon our government at all, could only come through the triumph of Bryanism.

It is certainly not Mr. Bryan's intention to set up an empire here, any more than it was the intention of the conspirators who brought about the French revolution to substitute for Louis XVI. an imperial despot like Napoleon. The leaders of the mobs of Rome under the republic did not realize that they were murdering popular liberties instead of nourishing them. The anarchist of today, speaking confusedly the catchwords of freedom, doubtless does not understand that the success of his ideas would be followed by the quick and thankful acceptance by the people of the first usurper who could guarantee the safety of property and individual rights. Yet this is the plain teaching of history. The demagogue is pleasing to some of those who are not thoroughly informed, and to some whose imagination so far outruns their judgment as to lead them to believe that natural laws which have operated once will not, for some unexplained reason, operate again; that is, he is pleasing so long as he is permitted simply to tickle the ear and arouse the passions of those who listen to him. But put the demagogue in power, and all is changed. The unrest which he created redoubles; another demagogue, more violent than he, more prodigal of promises, pushes him aside. The process repeats itself until the Man on Horseback appears.

The Man on Horseback is not a demagogue, he is an organizer. He restores order out of chaos, he reinstitutes legal forms and the courts; by his will and power he checks the violence of mobs; if the currency has been debased, and it usually has, he restores it. He does all this without argument, without debate, but nobody notices that he is using a despotic power, for all are on their knees thanking God for blessed peace and security once more. So they throw garlands before the advancing footsteps of their emperor. Thus the demagogue, ever professing his devotion to liberty, becomes in effect its executioner.

But none of these dreadful catastrophes can befall the United States. Our fondness for demagogues does not reach so far as that.

The "Paramount" Idea.

(Ottumwa (Ia.) Courier.)

Bryan has been identified with three "paramount" issues, to which he has, with all due solemnity, dedicated his life, and pledged his powers to engraft upon the national legislation of the country.

When in the fifty-second congress, nine years ago, he was an ardent champion of free trade, in a speech, long and brilliant, he declared that "a protective tariff was conceived in greed and fashioned in iniquity, false in economy and the most vicious political principle that ever cursed this country." Yet a protective tariff bill was passed by the first congress and approved by Washington. Bryan further declared that he would fight the protective system as long as there was anything to remedy. The struggle between protection and free trade went against him. The people repudiated free trade and Bryan dropped it. It was not wise to "paramount" free trade when it would not make votes.

Four years ago, realizing that he must "paramount" something else, he took up silver and worked it with all the force of his eloquence. That in turn was repudiated by the people and dropped by Bryan. All his wild prophecies have been proven to be false by the prosperous facts of recent experience.

This year he concluded to let free trade alone, touch lightly on free silver and "paramount" imperialism, and he is working it in the same prophet promising, reckless fashion. In opposing protection he denounced Washington, in advocating free silver he ran counter to all financial experience, in opposing expansion he reflects on Jefferson. After a few more campaigns he may possibly get into line and strike something that is right, but at present there is a big dent in the public confidence as to the accuracy of his prophetic powers and as to his leaderlike ability.

In this age of improvement there is one thing that is hard to improve. It is the foundation of the great annual sales of

Alfred O. Crozier on Organized Charities

Alfred O. Crozier, president of the Merchants and Business Men's association of Grand Rapids, Mich., is spending a few weeks here, stopping at the Alamo. He is the treasurer of the National Conference of Charities and Correction of the United States.

"I have been more than delighted with Colorado Springs, its climate and surroundings," said Mr. Crozier last evening. "This seems to me a busy city, and I have been greatly impressed by the quick comprehension and active intelligence of your leading men in important transactions. In the east, some of our people are prone to ponder long over a proposition, if for no other reason than to maintain our reputation for conservatism. Experience, I think, has demonstrated that the well-balanced mind, trained to keen observation and prompt decision, will be the most successful. The activities of your strenuous business atmosphere is a practical school which must breed successful men.

"You want me to talk 'shop'? The National Conference of Charities and Corrections is 27 years old. It is made up of delegates appointed by the governors of the various states officers and patrons of public and private charities, such as associated charities, social settlements, children's homes, alms houses, hospitals, asylums, municipal and county charities, penal and correctional institutions, and of philanthropists who desire to study these grave problems so as to act intelligently, without wronging either their beneficiaries or themselves. It is a free-lance affair, and out of its discussions many of the greatest correctional, charitable and sociological reforms have come. It is very difficult for some very good, charitably-inclined people to understand that the truest, and almost the only rational charity, is that which helps people to help themselves. We should not make people comfortable in poverty, but help them, or if necessary drive them, out of it. Careless alms to the unworthy is an opiate to the conscience of both giver and receiver the former parts with his money only, but the latter with his self-respect and ambition. Vagrancy and crime are his next steps and society pays the penalty.

"Associated charities are formed in the cities throughout the country by the leading business men and philanthropists to put the charitable work of the town on an intelligent and practical business basis. It is a clearing house for the various charities, and between charitable persons, preventing fraud and imposition by investigation and registration of all cases, preventing harmful duplication, and seeking out worthy poverty, which always shrinks from publicity, and finding for it adequate and appropriate assistance.

"A well managed associated charities is a source of economy to the business community, and at the same time absolutely insures against distress and real poverty. It does not supplant private charity, but stimulates, aids and directs it.

"When Louisville, Ky., was devastated by a cyclone the entire relief work, involving hundreds of thousands of dollars, was intrusted to the associated charities. Its trained workers systematized the thing, of course using hundreds of volunteers whom it directed, so that all aid was promptly put in the right place, waste avoided, and much extreme distress prevented. Such a society would be a godsend to Galveston and vicinity in this extreme emergency. It would save endless confusion, loss and delays. At such a time prompt, steady and systematic help is imperative. Any city is liable to disaster by flood, earthquake or fire, and it is well to be prepared.

"I am pleased to see the people of Colorado Springs come to the rescue of Galveston, and do it promptly. When thousands are without food, hours and even minutes are precious, three long days after the disaster. With thousands suffering from broken legs, arms, ribs, etc., surgeons are greatly needed. Texas has many doctors, but only a few doctors are surgeons.

"These fearful calamities, appalling as they are, serve the purpose, though I cannot believe so designed by Providence, of stirring the souls of mortals, demonstrating that above party, race, color and creed, there exists that spirit of human sympathy, almost universal, capable of the tenderest emotions and most heroic responses in the presence of human suffering."

Traveled 180 Miles Without Seeing a Man

Mr. and Mrs. Willis L. Hall have returned to Colorado Springs after one of the most exciting and interesting experiences that local people have ever taken. They have been traveling in the Green river country in Utah, and have completed a journey of 160 miles wholly outside of civilization in an open boat.

"We had a very enjoyable trip," said Mr. Hall yesterday, "although it was a hard one. We left the railroad at Green River and started down in an open boat on the 7th of August. From the 8th until the 31st we did not see a human being, not even an Indian. We went 100 miles down the Green river to its junction with the Grand and then ascended the Grand 60 miles to the town of Moab, from which place we went 35 miles overland with a wagon, this taking us back to the railroad.

"We saw deer and mountain sheep and caught a good many fish, but did not see a person. Not 100 people have ever gone as far down the Green river as we went. That is, not 100 whites. My wife was the fourth white woman to make the trip. The people of the little town of Moab were almost thunderstruck when we came into town from down the river.

"The country is a paradise for the lover of beautiful scenery. The mountains are as grand as any that I have ever seen and the rocks present more beautiful pictures than can be imagined. The water of the Green river is of a muddy color and is actually dirty. That of the Grand is green and clear. We made the descent of 100 miles on the Green river in a week and took the rest of the time, two weeks, in ascending the Grand. Part of the way I rowed the boat and part of the way I towed it. The water was low and I could walk along the bank and tow the boat.

"The real object of the trip was to explore the cliff dwellings that are found in that section in great numbers. I found them all right, but could do little exploring, because it was not safe for one man to attempt to reach them.

"Situated as I was, with provisions for only 60 days, with my wife there and no one else who could get her back to civilization, if I could not, I could not take the chances that have to be taken in order to reach those cliff dwellings. They are there, however, and will prove interesting fields for exploration for persons who can reach them."

MASTER PLUMBERS VISIT THE CITY

The State Association of Master Plumbers of Colorado is holding an informal session in this city and a number of delegates are here from Denver, Pueblo, Cripple Creek, Victor and other points. The out-of-town men are here more as the guests of the local association than for the purpose of transacting business, but several matters of importance to the craft have been discussed and will be discussed today. The sessions are being held in the Midland block.

Yesterday evening the delegates were taken to Manitou, where they enjoyed a plunge and later they were given a "Dutch lunch" at the Alamo. Today's plans include a visit to Cheyenne canons.

The officers of the state association are T. J. White of Denver, president; E. R. Joyce of Colorado Springs, vice president; Peter Menzie of Denver, secretary, and R. McIver of Denver, treasurer. The members of the executive committee are Chris Irvine of Denver, B. S. Cook of Cheyenne; W. J. Donnelly of Cripple Creek and J. C. St. John of Colorado Springs. The officers of the local association are E. R. Joyce, president; Frank Bumstead, secretary, and William Doyle, treasurer.

COLLEGE WILL START ANOTHER YEAR'S WORK

Colorado college starts on another year of progress today and the outlook at the opening is very flattering. Today is the official opening day for the enrollment of students and the assignment of work for the year, but as a matter of fact the enrollment of students has been going on all week and will be continued for probably a week to come.

The attendance is already much larger than it was last year. The campus is alive with new faces, while nearly all the old students have returned. Very little work will be done this week, but next week classes will be started in earnest. It is quite a problem how to accommodate all the students, either in dormitories or recitation halls, but this will all be adjusted in a short time.

There are several new members of the faculty this year. All the faculty have arrived are day for week.

MASS MEETING AT THE TEMPLE

Local Relief Fund for Galveston Now $3,500 Another $2,500 or More Will Be Sent Tonight.

Colorado Springs has subscribed $3,500 for the relief of the Galveston sufferers to date, and the good work is still going on. The executive committee appointed by the mayor got to work yesterday and made a thorough canvass of all the business and professional men who were in the city, with the result that $1,900 was raised, which in addition to the $1,600 raised at the mass meeting on Monday night makes the total $3,500.

The committee has still to see one or two well known and generous citizens who were not in town yesterday, but they will not make a general canvass today. The subscription lists will be kept open at the chamber of commerce, the Gazette office and City Treasurer Hale's office.

MASS MEETING TONIGHT AT TEMPLE.

At 8 o'clock tonight in the Temple theater, the big mass meeting of citizens will be held. Mayor Robinson will preside and addresses will be made by President Slocum, C. C. Hemming, V. Z. Reed and several others. It is hoped that General Palmer may be present and speak. It is expected that the Midland band will return from Denver this evening and an effort will be made to secure it to play between 7:45 and 8:15. Prof. Clarence W. Bowers will preside at the organ and the united choirs of the city will lead the singing.

It is the intention of the committee to keep the meeting within an hour, and it is hoped that those who go will keep their seats until the end in order that there may be no commotion.

At the close of the remarks an opportunity will be made for any to give pledges of any amounts, and after that a general collection will be taken up. The pastors of the different churches met yesterday afternoon in the Y. M. C. A. rooms and passed resolutions expressing their sympathy with the cause and agreeing to close their prayer meetings in time for the mass meeting tonight. They will urge upon their congregations to attend the big meeting. The object of the meeting tonight is solely to raise money for the fund, and it is believed that a big sum will be realized. Those who can't attend tonight's meeting and are desirous of contributing may send the cash or their checks to any one of the places mentioned above where the subscription lists will be kept open. Contributions of all sizes will be gladly accepted.

Mr. Hale wishes that those who have subscribed will send in their checks or the cash at once, and that those who are going to subscribe will do it today so that another $2,500 may be wired to the sufferers tonight after the meeting.

The Western Union company has offered the use of its wires free of charge for all the purposes of the committee.

Yesterday Secretary McClurg received word from Mr. B. L. Winchell, general manager of the Colorado and Southern railroad, to the effect that his road would be glad to transport free of charge anything in the way of clothing or supplies of any kind which this city might want to send to Galveston.

The work of raising subscriptions was pushed hard yesterday and there was a very general response. The brokers of the city, who are always in the fore front in the way of philanthropy of this kind, did the handsome thing by subscribing $900 among themselves for the fund. At the request of the executive committee, Dr. Boyle addressed the brokers on the "old exchange" immediately after the opening of the call yesterday morning, and the response was immediate. F. S. Ballard and H. A. Young were particularly active in raising the money.

NAMES OF CONTRIBUTORS TO THE FUND.

Below is a list of all who have subscribed toward the fund. By request of the committee, the names only are given, and no amounts, as it is heartily desired by all connected with the movement that there be no comparisons. The list of names is as follows:

EVERYONE WANTS TO AID THE WORK.

The pleasing feature to the work of raising the money yesterday was the desire of people of all classes to contribute. One case that struck the committee as particularly touching was that of a young boy, under 15 years of age, who works in one of the offices in the city and gets $3 a week for his work. Yesterday he went up to Secretary McClurg and put down $4 as his subscription. Mr. McClurg told him he thought he was giving too much, more than he could afford, but the noble hearted little fellow said, "No! they're suffering down there and I'm not." Mr. McClurg did not try to dissuade the boy any further.

Another pleasing feature was a response from the Pike's Peak club which sent in a check for $100.

City Treasurer Hale reports that the laboring men of the city have responded nobly to the extent of their abilities and this is another very gratifying feature.

The anxiety of some of the Texas people in this city was relieved yesterday by news from their loved ones. Miss Kempner and her mother, who are stopping at Ye Cheiteh Inn, received a message from Miss Kempner's brother, who is city treasurer of Galveston. The telegram briefly confirms the story of the awful destruction to the city, but stated that their own home was still standing, though damaged, and all their relatives were safe.

MR. BAILEY HAS BEEN HEARD FROM.

Mrs. J. E. Baily and Miss Dot Baily, who are at the Alamo and who have been very anxious over the safety of Mr. Baily and his son, Jerry Baily, have had their fears allayed by word from Galveston. Early yesterday a message was received from Mr. James Timmins at Houston to the effect that Mr. Baily was safe at noon on Sunday, when he made his escape from the city. Later a message was received from Mr. Baily himself and read:

"Jerry and I are safe. Mortality and property destruction great."

Mr. J. R. Blanchet, of New Iberia, La., who has a daughter and son-in-law in Galveston, yesterday received word from his son-in-law, S. P. Mistret, to the effect that the family were safe.

Rev. W. G. Templeton, of the Cumberland Presbyterian church of this city, is anxiously awaiting news from his mother, brother and sister, who were in Galveston at the time of the disaster. He has been unsuccessful in his attempts to reach them by telegraph.

The awful details which arrived from Galveston yesterday and last night have augmented the feeling of profound sorrow all over the city and have raised fresh fears in the minds of those whose dear friends in the island city have not been heard from, and anxious hearts are awaiting the full list of the dead and missing which alone will tell them the full tidings.

LOCAL FIRM INTERESTED IN GALVESTON REALTY.

Mr. H. M. True, Jr., is one of the Galveston people at the Alamo. He is the son of the president of the Galveston Land and Improvement company, which owns the Denver re-survey in Galveston, which the newspaper reports said was visited by the storm and the houses destroyed. Thurlow, Hutton & Williams of this city are interested in this company, and the representatives of the firm, noticing in the Gazette that Mr. Truehart was here, were in consultation with him last night. Later in speaking to a Gazette representative Mr. Truehart said:

"The Denver re-survey was not built up to any great extent, there being probably 15 houses on it, but I suppose they have all been destroyed. My father was not in Galveston at the time of the storm, and though I have not heard from him yet I expect to soon. We don't know yet what our losses will be."

When asked his opinion on the probable rebuilding of the city, he said:

"I think the port is too well established ever to be abandoned. It is now in the height of its glory as a port. The Southern Pacific was making its terminus there and Mr. Huntington was building the finest wharves in the world. If the Southern Pacific continues its work it will give confidence to the others, but any way I think the city will be rebuilt. Personally I would have no objection to living there. I don't think such a catastrophe will ever happen again, though of course it may, as it may happen to many other cities."

The secretary of the Galveston Land and Improvement Co. Mr. I. Minor is reported as dead, as is also the general manager, Mr. H. B. Cullum, and his wife.

GOLD COIN CUT THE VEIN

Values Higher Than at Any Point of Contact--High Grade Ore from May Belle Lease.

Special to the Gazette.

Cripple Creek Sept. 11.—The Gold Coin M. & L. Co. has again cut the vein from the 850 foot level. The values are higher at this point than at any other point of contact. Work in the sump was finished today. The property now has a depth of 1,025 feet and the tenth level will be started tomorrow. The company will have 300 feet of stoping ground opened up. The new hoist will be used tomorrow for the first time.

Next Saturday is the day for declaring the company's regular monthly dividend of $20,000, which will make $640,000 paid to the shareholders, or 8½ per cent of the capitalization.

Ore of a very high grade is being sacked from the Woods Investment company's lease on the May Belle of the Cripple Creek Gold Exploration company's property. The ore is of a sylvanite character. The work of stoping from the 750 foot level is in progress and work will continue from the winze in the same level.

An eighty ton shipment is in preparation and will be sent out tomorrow or Thursday by Willard and associates, sub leasing on the north block of the Abe Lincoln on Raven hill. The ore has been taken from the bottom level at a depth of 2[illegible] feet. A mill run of 100 pounds shows a value of $80.

Edwards & Co. have taken a lease on the Mary Ann claim of the Lasca G. M. Co. on the southeast slope of Bull hill. The lease is for 18 months and work is to begin Sept. 15. The lessees agreed to sink a shaft 500 feet deep and to put in a hoisting plant as soon as the 0 [illegible] point is reached. The royalty is 20 per cent.

The Mount Tisgah Town and Water company has leased to Samuel Loom[illegible] and F. N. Gray the Louis placer, the Gleksheo placer and the Irish lode for a period of 30 months. The lessees agreed to pay $500 for the first year and $50 a month for the remainder of the time and to sink and timber a shaft 4x4 feet, the work to begin within 90 days. The lessees have an option to purchase the property at $1,000,000 in a year or within two years for $20,000.

George A. Pittsworth has sold an undivided one half interest in the Roy Lark lode on Mineral hill to E. R. McClellane for $500.

Sam Maunder had filed a mechanic's lien against the Battle Mountain Tunnel and Mining company. The amount $1,449.51 is for labor performed by Maunder and 21 other workmen under Contractor Napoleon P. Gagnan, who dropped the contract for driving the tunnel on Sept. 6 and left the district.

Ross & Hummer leasing block 8 of the Gold Bond Consolidated Mines company this morning received returns from the pogle sampler on a shipment of 17½ tons made last week. It averaged $2.20 a ton. This was second grade matter. One of the first grade a shipment of which was made last week is running better than $35. A little very high grade ore carrying some sylvanite is being sacked from a streak recently found in the 1[illegible] foot level.

Ryan & Hanks leasing on the Z[illegible] have encountered some very rich ore. It is in the same streak from which they took out some very sensational values the early part of this year but which did not hold out very long. The find this time has been made in an upraise from the drift at a depth of 11 feet. There is in sight 16 inches to two feet of unknown quality of it carrying considerable quantities of free gold. The upraise was started at a point 70 feet east of where the vein was reached by the crosscut from the bottom of the shaft.

75-CENT ISABELLA?

That is the Question Which is Being Asked Among the Mining Men --Many Admit Its Possibility

When the directors of the Isabella [illegible] declared a dividend rate from three cents per share a quarter to one cent per share a quarter the mining men in this city said [illegible]

New York Isabella tumble. Accordingly when the stock was called on the mining exchange yesterday morning a fairly crowd had gathered to witness it tumble.

The reactions of a sensational decline had been so numerous that it was something of a surprise when the stock opened as high as 8 cents and although it gradually sold down to 5½ on the after noon call the decline was far more gradual than has been expected and that in spite of the fact that there were a great many selling orders on the floor. To the holders of the stock it was something of a surprise that Isabella manifested as much strength as it did, to those who were not holders it became safe to say it was something of a disappointment. The consensus of opinion among the brokers of the city is that the stock will go lower. They consider that with such conditions in the mine as necessitate the reduction of dividends two thirds the property must be worth an amount correspondingly less than when it was able to pay three cents a quarter. Others who are more bullish in their sentiments say that they would like to buy the stock at present prices [illegible]

With the lords of secret management [illegible] the affairs of the company and the stock they do not consider it a safe proposition at any price.

Isabella now is paying the same dividend per share which Acacia is paying, namely the buers and sellers are selling at about 45 cents. Why pay a dollar for Isabella when Acacia can be purchased for half that amount. But this comparison seems hardly reasonable when it is remembered that Acacia owns 40 acres on Bull hill while Isabella owns 160 acres in that vicinity and with the capitalization of Isabella is $7,000 greater than Acacia the development work which has been done in the larger mine is far greater than what has been done in either of Acacia's properties.

When Isabella reaches 75 cents said a prominent mining man yesterday "I shall buy. I think that under normal conditions the stock is worth more than that. The development done at the 14th level has not yet been extensive enough to justify a conclusion that the rich shoot does not extend to that depth there are immense bodies of low grade ore blocked out and the company's great acreage still entitles it to be a mine of great possibilities. But 75 cents is all that I should feel safe to pay for the stock while the property is under the management of men who are not frank and open with the stock [illegible]

BUCKHORN ANNUAL MEETING

Held Yesterday and was a Very Amicable One -Recapitalization Decided On--Sale of Whippoorwill Claim Ratified

Yesterday morning the deferred annual meeting of the Buckhorn Gold Mining company was held in the offices of Blackmer & McAllister in the Giddings building. Several items of unusual interest were discussed notably the recapitalization of the company and the ratification of the sale of the Whippoorwill claim which was made last July. The Buckhorn company will be reorganized under the laws of the state of West Virginia and the new company will have for its capital stock 1,000,000 against a previous capital of 1,500,000. On the other hand old stockholders will receive equal shares in the new company as the old. The 200,000 shares will be utilized as a treasury reserve. The par value of the new shares will be 10 cents per share and this declares in the stock will be entirely in their favor in the tax.

The object in this recapitalization is to identify the old from the new company as in the issue of the old stock was made several years ago and only in December, 1899, were the books of the company placed in charge of Hinsley, resident from the Eastern and to be succeeded by H. C. McAllister. The new Buckhorn company begins under very auspicious circumstances with a treasury reserve of $[illegible] and 2,000,000 shares of stock. The holdings are numerous and the principal of late is the Grass claim, located to the east of the Vindicator and Alice mines and in excellent position to catch their pay veins. All efforts will be directed toward developing the Grass, though there are several other large and valuable lodes in the neighborhood of Isabella. In all the Buckhorn will own about 55 acres inside territory and 10 acres of leaded ground to the north of Cripple Creek.

LOS ANGELES IS NOW SAFE

B. Clark Wheeler, Leasing on the Property, has Assumed the Indebtedness of the Company, about $13,000.

As stated in these columns a few days ago a meeting of the directors of the Los Angeles company was to be held in Denver for the purpose of devising some way for preventing the property from being foreclosed on for debts outstanding against the company. That a settlement has just been held and B. Clark Wheeler, who has a lease on the property came to the rescue of the company by offering to assume the indebtedness retaining the royalties which he had agreed to pay the company until he was reimbursed.

It was stated the other day that unless some method were devised for preventing the foreclosure Mr. Wheeler would lose his lease and his appearing before the meeting and making the offer which he did was not only a godsend to the company but was perhaps the only thing which he could do in order to save his lease upon which he has expended considerable money from being forfeited. When the officers summoned the meeting it was with great foreboding that the situation was a dire one and at one time it was thought that a special meeting of the stockholders would better be called as the predicament was certainly one which demanded some ingenuity from those who wanted to escape from it but the timely aid of Mr. Wheeler very happily solved the problem.

Upon the publication in the Gazette of the probability of a foreclosure the stock was very much depressed on the local exchanges but after it became known that the matter had been adjusted it strengthened up and sold yesterday for 19 cents.

The directors gladly availed themselves of Mr. Wheeler's offer agreeing to allow him the entire proceeds of the ore which he mined until the share which the company would ordinarily receive shall have been paid him. The indebtedness amounts to about $13,000. Mr. Wheeler was also made a director in the company.

"BOOM" EXPECTED IN DEADWOOD

Mining Expert A. W. S. Rotherwell in the South Dakota Camp and Expresses Favorable Opinion.

(Special Correspondence.)

Deadwood, S. D., Sept. 8.—Dr. A. W. S. Rotherwell the mining wizard who has located by his art a great many mines in the United States has returned to this city from Colorado points. At Colorado Springs he found a large number of mining men ready to come to the Black Hills at the earliest possible time. Quite a number were planning to come before the Burlington excursion in order to get in on [illegible] thing like a boom. Dr. Rotherwell has been into every mining country in the United States and is well known on account of his discoveries of ore bodies. In the Black Hills he located for the owners ore bodies in the Star Lime near Hill City in Pennington county also the Lena owned by Minneapolis parties and the Golden Summit near that place. At the 200 foot level of the Lady Ida mine at Keystone which is one of the greatest producers of gold in the Hills he located a new vein which is very rich. He has found other ore bodies in the Hills some of which have turned out to be good producers. In Georgia he located ore bodies for a number of big companies and in Arkansas he found a body of feldspar which is very rich. In Colorado he located a vein on the Helena Clark company in the Silver Saddle district [illegible] company [illegible] and E. A. Thair near Burnsville Colorado. He has also been in the employ of the Lemmon Mining company Omaha which is now operating in British Columbia. He is at present in partnership with a party on a big lease of mining property in Cripple Creek.

Dr. Rotherwell states that the ore

Men do not like to go to doctors. Nine times out of ten they wait until they are laid flat on their backs before they will consult a physician. There is some reason in this for when a business man feels out of sorts and goes to a physician he is often given violent drugs that make him for a time unfit for business and really sick.

There is a way of avoiding both extremes—that of neglecting the health and that of taking violent drugs that rack the entire system—it is always to keep on hand a bottle of Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery. Of all medicines it will resort to this great medicine whenever he feels that he is out of sorts and threatened with illness he may keep in good health. It is the great appetite sharpener, blood maker and flesh builder. It fills the arteries with the rich, red tissue building blood of health. It does not make flabby fat like cod liver oil, but the solid muscular and nerve tissues of health. It does not make corpulent people more corpulent.

I want to inform you of a cure effected by Dr. Pierce's medicines, writes Mrs. Nelson Smith of Mount Vernon, Jefferson Co., Ills. "About six years ago I had prolonged with bronchitis and consumption. In the spring of 1896 my condition became very serious. I had consumption and I coughed day and night could not lie down at all. Our family doctor said I could not get well. The neighbors came in to see me die and a lady friend recommended Dr. Pierce's medicines so strongly that we immediately sent out and bought six bottles of his Golden Medical Discovery and Favorite Prescription. After using these medicines found I was receiving benefit and continued. I weighed 120 when I commenced taking medicine, now weigh 20[illegible]. I sleep well, have a splendid appetite, feel well and believe I am entirely cured. I am thankful to God and to Dr. Pierce for those wonderful medicines. I want to add that I am a wonder to my neighbors and friends.

bodies are easy to find in the Black Hills owing to the fact that they are near the surface. His greatest success has been made in the Hills. A great majority of the ore veins outcrop very strong while in the first formation the distance to the first ore contacts is not more than 50 to 60 feet many times less. The Burlington officials here are receiving a great many inquiries from Colorado in regard to the resources of the Black Hills. Advertising matter of all sorts is being sent out daily. Saturday five tickets were sent to parties in Colorado Springs to Deadwood and return. It is practically certain that a big deal will be put through in the phonolite belt west of this city as soon as these parties arrive.

MINING NOTES AROUND TOWN

TRIAL SHIPMENT FROM CONSTANTINE

Sub-Lessee Wylie on the Constantine claim of the company of the same name sent out a trial shipment of six tons from his sub lease under Seelbach Bros. The ore came from the 70 foot level and an average of $12 was secured. The Wylie sub lease is on the extreme southern end of the claim. The vein is very well defined and Wylie is sanguine that with depth pay ore will be uncovered. He has a systematic system of development mapped out.

FORTY TONS A WEEK CLAIMED BY GOLD SOVEREIGN

It is announced that 40 tons of ore are sent weekly from the Gold Sovereign property. But it is also intimated that the grade is of such a low order that the company's profits are very scant. A very large but also low grade ore body is opened up in a drift from the 400 foot level and assays from this shoot rarely are better than one ounce to the ton. This deposit is uncovered on the Whisper lease and regular shipments of this ore are made.

DEED FILED FOR PURCHASE OF CLAIMS

A deed was filed in Cripple Creek which legally records the sale of the Nadine and Quinn claims to W. S. Stratton. The deed names Carl and Emma Johnson as the former owners of the properties and the purchase price was $35,000. The lodes are on Gold hill lying between the Tenmile and the former Cripple Creek Consolidated properties and which Stratton now owns by the purchase of these claims the Stratton Gold hill group has an unbroken front on the northern slope of the hill.

EIGHTY FIVE DOLLARS A TON SANTA RITA'S AVERAGE

Santa Rita's ore average is astonishingly large. Numerous shipments are irregularly marketed and they will not be a systematic thing until the 600-foot level is reached. At present the shaft is in the ground 500 feet and very little further sinking will be necessary. The bulk of the ore is coming from the 400 foot level and it is confidently expected that the vein will be similarly rich at the 600 foot station. The ore average is $85 a ton.

ONE HUNDRED DOLLARS FROM THE OLD FREELAND MINE

Several carloads of ore have left the old Freeland mine in the Clear Creek district and it is evident that this former bonanza will show renewed life under the energetic management of the McKinnie-Davie contingent of this city. The Freeland mine is a holding of the Monarch Mining, Milling and Tunneling company and the company also owns a vast area of adjacent territory. The ore which was shipped will average five ounces in gold to the ton.

PLATS PREPARED OF COMMONWEALTH'S NEW LODE

Plats have been prepared and give a good idea of the Harold lode recently purchased by the Commonwealth company. The lode consists of four fractional claims all in splendid location. The largest is a strip of an acre and a half and lies between the Clyde mine and the Rigi group. Slightly up the hill is the Modoc mine and it is generally conceded that the Modoc vein traverses the claim. Other portions of the property lie in the vicinity of the Zeolite of the Moon Anchor company and one of the American Consolidated company's claims. The Harold has long been a subject of contention between the surrounding companies and now all adverses are ended. The purchase price was $9,000.

SQUAW MOUNTAIN ON THE "BOOM"

Squaw mountain is now the favorite haunt of the prospector and whereas the north slope of Bull hill and the eastern side of Gold hill are no longer very active lessees are arriving and earnest on the southern extremity of the district. Almost the entire south slope of Squaw is dotted with crude shaft houses and smoke is seen rising every hundred feet of the ground. All this activity is caused by the wonderful showing in the Lady Ida mine and now that the Cripple Creek lode is shooting up rich ore the surrounding properties reflect the prestige earned by these two properties. On the Little Puck ore bins are being erected to accommodate the rock which is being extracted and the Climax Leasing company on this lode will soon begin regular shipments.

LOS ANGELES WILL NOT LOSE PROPERTY

There has been much apprehension felt among the shareholders of the Los Angeles company. This has been caused by the threatened foreclosure but these fears may be removed as the matter will be adjusted and in spite of the $12,000 the property will remain in the hands of the company. An Aspen gentleman B. Clark Wheeler has offered at a directors meeting to assume the debts of the company, and this has been accepted. Mr. Wheeler will be made a director and no further annoyance or danger to the company should be expected. The Los Angeles is a very valuable claim lying to the north of the Portland properties and has already proved of much mineral value.

MONUMENT MINE ON BATTLE MOUNTAIN IMPROVING

The Par Value G. M. Co. has purchased the Hansbarough lease on the southern end of the Monument on Battle mountain, and the new lessees will pursue a more active system of development work whereby the ore deposits which are supposed to exist can be opened up. An altogether new shaft will be sunk and continued to a depth of 200 feet with all possible speed. On the company's workings the greatest encouragement is felt as the recent researches below the third levels have uncovered a long and high grade ore shoot and work on this will be started at once.

WELL DEFINED BUT LOW GRADE VEIN

On the War Eagle lode lessees are sinking on a well defined vein and a depth of 225 feet has already been attained. The lead however, does not assay pay and further sinking is necessary. The War Eagle is a well located claim near Windy Point and in the neighborhood of the following well known properties: Central, Sheriff, Enola and Amanda.

THE COLORADO SPRINGS MINING STOCK EXCHANGE

Colorado Springs, Sept. 11.—Isabella occupied the sole attention of both brokers and the public today. The directors of this company convened yesterday and declared a one cent dividend whereas the usual rate was three cents. Naturally this cutting of dividends had a depressing effect on the stock and although the first sale of these shares was recorded at 98 cents the bulk of the trading was made at 96 and 97 cents. A great number of shares were sold and there was surprise expressed that the stock didn't decline to a greater extent. There was slight shading in the prices of the other stocks and securities were for the most part weak and dull.

The day's business amounted to 448,458 shares with a cash value of $116,335.

This Climate Won't Cure Consumption

in all cases. Many persons come here on their doctor's advice, and receive no benefit at all. Other improve for a year or so, and then begin to decline. Some after years of residence here, in apparent perfect health, again give way to the ravages of disease, and while they do not fail as rapidly as in the east they do surely and steadily decline.

In such cases nature needs the help which through modern science the physician is able to afford her. Given this assistance, nearly every case of this character can be so thoroughly cured that the patient may again safely live in the east.

Modern scientific research has added much to the knowledge of this dreaded disease, and the successful methods of treating it.

Here in Colorado Springs, Dr. W. A. Shepard, with his improved methods of treatment is having wonderful success with such cases as are described above. Many persons, who, having tried the change of climate at the suggestion of their home physician without benefit, have come to Dr. Shepard as a last resort, have found quick relief and ultimate cure, and are now adding their testimony to the hundreds of others he has cured in his long career as a specialist in such troubles.

RETURNING EAST

And one of the most important points in favor of this improved method is that after a short period of treatment here, most PATIENTS CAN SAFELY RETURN TO THEIR EASTERN HOMES to complete the course.

Sufferers from consumption or their friends are invited to make the most searching investigation.

Out of town sufferers who will send for the doctor's question blank can receive the benefit of his expert knowledge free.

Free Examinations are made between 11 and 12 A. M.; and 4 and 5 P. M., except Sundays, at

BUTTERFLY-TERRIBLE'S PRODUCTION

The management of the Butterfly-Terrible Gold Mining company announces the production during the month of August to be far in excess of the July output although this was up to the present time, the banner month for the company. A total production of $4,602.49 was extracted from the mine in San Miguel county, a gain of $1,500 over the month of July. For the past few months since the present management has been in control the output from the mine has been $21,000. The directors report the property to be in excellent shape and that now the majority of the men are on ore, the extensive development work being almost completed. An encouraging indication is the increase in the ore values and now ore deposits along the vein have increased from $10 a ton, of a month or so ago, to $18 a ton, while other locations which were formerly totally barren of pay rock are now beginning to assay $7 and $8 a ton, which rock can be mined at a profit under the concentrating system. The treasury reserve is being built up and besides the cash balance here are 250,000 shares of stock in the treasury. The pay roll is very light, considering the magnitude of the mine, and labor is far cheaper in that locality than in the Cripple Creek district.

GARDNER & CO.'S MARKET LETTER

Colorado Springs, Sept. 10.—"Hollos, Mr. Broker," said the Pickle Man. "Glad to see you looking so brown and hearty. Where have you been?"

"Been off fishing," replied Mr. Broker. "Didn't think I could get away, chained to business and all that sort of thing, until I remembered the story they tell on a well-known local promoter."

"What was the story?" said the Pickle Man. "It seems the promoting gentleman received a cash bid for a good property in Cripple Creek and called around to see if the owner would sell. The owner heard the promoter's story and then said: 'No, sir, my property is not for sale at any price, nor will I give you any option on the property. Now, I am always glad to see you personally, but never speak to me again about selling my mine as it is not for sale and never will be.'"

Now this was good strong talk and would have finished up most men, but it was just pie for our promoter and he rushed for the telegraph office and wired his proposed buyer as follows: "Have seen my man and can report excellent progress. Party excited and interested in proposed deal; will land our fish yet."

"So, Mr. Broker, you thought you would just stop work for awhile and land your fish? Eh?" said the Pickle Man. "Where did you go?"

"Oh, I went way up near the clouds, where the fish grow large and strong. It was impossible to use all the fish we caught and all under three pounds were thrown back into the river."

"Oh! Ah! Yes, of course, certainly," ejaculated the Pickle Man, as fast as he recovered his breath. "I have caught big fish, too, in my time; used to carry around a 10-ton wagon scale to weigh them on until one day a big fish busted the whole outfit. But, say, I am tired of fish stories, let's talk about politics or mining stocks or something that has just a wee bit element of chance in it. What do you think of the future of the market?"

"Cripple Creek as a whole is all right," replied Mr. Broker, "but just now there are too many promoted stocks. Cutting commissions was a great injury to our market. The brokers were satisfied with the old rates and were making money, with commissions cut in two brokerage houses could not make expenses and so in self-defense they went to promoting and the active money that formerly used to flow to and fro in the legitimate commission stock business has got tied up in promoted stocks at higher figures than the shares can be sold for at present."

"Then you don't believe in promoting?" remarked the Pickle Man.

"Yes, indeed, promoting at a figure that fairly represents the property is all right," said Mr. Broker, "but promoting away above values hurts the market and in the end will prove its ruin." "There's another queer thing," remarked the Pickle Man, "people will not buy when prices are down, but just get crazy to dip in when prices are sky high. How do you account for that?"

"Oh, easily enough," said Mr. Broker, "it's human nature to want what you cannot get, and when stocks go way up people begin to fear they are going out of night and so they want their share of the good thing. There was a little verse in some paper the other day that explains things pretty neatly.

THE ABSENT-MINDED INVESTOR.

"When everything looks rosy and the boom is under way,
And folks are buying stocks to beat the band,
Have a care, and make haste slowly, for some bright and sunny day
They'll bust, and heaven knows just where you'll land.
For we absent-minded beggars never think of when to sell,
The only word we seem to know is 'buy,'
With prices going upward, why everything looks well,
But pretty soon on margin we are shy.

CHORUS.

Gold stocks, silver stocks, stocks of every kind,
Booming in prosperity, making us feel gay;
Wait till the lambs are loaded; that's the time we'll find
A billet deux's from our broker friend, to 'pay! pay! pay!'"

"Then you're not a bull on stocks?" inquired the Pickle Man.

"There's where you're wrong," replied Mr. Broker. "I am a bull on Cripple Creek itself and a bull on good Cripple Creek stocks, but I am most decidedly not a bull on every promoted share that comes out on the market with a whoop and a hurrah, but here are some more verses for you.

"There are fortunes made in Cripple Creek, We hear of them, you and I,
Although we never buy till stocks are at the top;
The odds are all against us, for no matter how we try,
We're all lost in the shuffle when they drop;
For they tell us when to buy them, but never when to sell,
And we absent-minded beggars have no fears,
Till things have turned clear over, and are booked to go to—well,
And that's the time we short them to our cars.

CHORUS.

Big lambs, small lambs, lambs with the golden fleece,
Sell your stocks when the boom is on, buy on the breaks alway,
That's the way to make money, to have your bank account increase,
And you'll never hear your broker bawling 'pay! pay! pay!'"

Expansion.

The trade expansion of the United States is a matter of pride to all Americans without regard to their personal views on territorial expansion and its political bearings. While trade in general has expanded as never before in the history of our country, its volume can best be understood by the practical illustration furnished by one great concern which has long led the world in its particular branch of business. The output of the different brands of beer of the Anheuser-Busch Brewing association of St. Louis, Mo., going to every part of the civilized earth, has reached in the months of June, July and August, 1900, the unprecedented quantity of 322,449 barrels. That is more than a year's output of some breweries calling themselves great.

Where Did that Headache Go?

If there was no cure for that headache there would be some reason for tolerating it. But there is a cure. It is safe swift sure. It goes right to the throbbing tearing pain and soothes it and quiets it until in a few minutes you can straighten up and say "Where did that headache go?" Never mind. It is gone. It will not trouble you again soon.

And then the medicine is so easy to take—no bad smell no big capsule to swallow. It is just a little tasteless wafer and after it is moistened it slips down your throat as easy as an oyster.

People who don't enjoy having headache enough to keep a box in the house all the time. The name? Instant Headache Cure. We sell it.

The Field The Need

It is a fact that of all the buildings in COLORADO SPRINGS of a class sure to be ultimately heated less than 25 per cent are now equipped with STEAM or HOT WATER Heating Systems. Think of it. Is it not time for you business men to get in the up-to date procession? Appreciating the need of our friends and future patrons for information on this subject we are preparing ourselves to SPREAD the irrontrovertible reasons why owners of 75 per cent of the unmodernized houses of this city should no longer afford to deny themselves the benefits available in one of our heating devices.
